BY JOSEPH H. BUTLER.

O let me dwell where freedom reigns,
I seek not wealth nor power;
But life, without her smile, would be
Like earth without a flower.
Brave hearts have shed their life for her,
On battle-field and wave;
And nobly chose to breathe her air,
Or slumber in the grave.
For her the field of Marathon,
With blood was deeply dyed;
And Sparta's "Lion" in the pass
Struck down a tyrant's bride.
On deck—on rock—on bastion,
Here stirring try has rung;
Mid the wild woods of a thousand hills,
Her songs shall yet be sung.
A Banachans and Bunker Hill,
Chall long remembered be;
And hearts shall burn with noble zeal,
And man shall yet be free.
Heaven bestows the efforts of the just,
And bid their will be done,
And grant to each down trodden land
A future Washington.

The Poetry of Agriculture.—The principles of agriculture are exceedingly simple. That they might be made so, God himself was the first planter. He wrote his laws visibly in the brightest loveliest, and most intelligent characters everywhere upon the broad bosom of the liberal earth, in greenest leaves, in delicious fruits, in beguiling and delicate flowers! But he does not content himself with this alone. He bestows the heritage along with the example. He prepares the garden and the home, before he creates the being who is to possess them. He fills them with all those objects of sense and sentiment which are to supply his moral and physical necessities. Birds sing in the boughs above him, orders blossom in the air, and fruits and flowers cover the earth with a glory to which that of Solomon, in all its magnificence, was vain and valueless. To his hand we owe these fair groves, these tall ranks of majestic trees, these deep forests, these broad plain covered with verdure, and these mighty arteries of flood and river which wind along, beautifying them with the loveliest inequities, and irrigating them with seasonal fertilization. Thus did the Almighty planter dedicate the great plantation to the uses of that various and wondrous family which was to follow.

His home prepared—supplied with all resources, adorned with every variety of fruit and flower, and checkered with abundance, man is conducted within its pleasant limits, and ordered its cultivator under the very eye and sanction of Heaven. The angels of Heaven descend upon the hills. God himself appears within its valleys at noon-day—its groves are hushed with life and purity, and the blessed stars rise at night to keep watch over its consecrated interests. Its gorgeous forests, its broad savannas, its levels of flood and prairie, are surrendered into the hands of the wondrously favored, the new created heir of Heaven. The bird and beast are made distributaries, and taught to obey him. The fowl summons him at morning to his labors, and the evening chant of the night-bird warns him to repose. The ox submits his neck to the yoke, the horse moves at his bidding in the plough; and the toils of all are rendered sacred and successful by the gentle showers and the genial sunshine which descend from Heaven, to ripen the grain in its season and to make earth pleasant with its fruits.—[People's Advocate.

A Cincinnati exchange says: "The success of Dr. CAROLINE BROWN in the practice of the medical profession has already had a sensible effect upon the ladies in the country round about Cincinnati. Six young ladies, of good families and superior education, have applied for admission to the Eclectic Medical College at the approaching term."

Salernus is said to be injurious to the human system, and to destroy thousands of children, and even some adults. In New Brunswick, contiguous to Maine, the physicians say that half the children are killed by salernus. The evil is fast spreading throughout the Union. Families of moderate size already use from 10 to 25 pounds of salernus yearly.

If the above are facts why is it not exposed.

The quickest way to spoil a child is to mistake it for a pillow some day and sit on it.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

This Liniment is unequalled for the cure of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Bruises, strains, Burns, corns, piles, tumors, and swellings or pains in any part of the body an external application can reach. A vol. of 100 capsules has been already given from those that have been cured of these diseases, and also from those that have been cured of Ring-bone, spavin, Fistula, scratches, wind-galls, saddle-galls, or any stiffness or enlargement of limbs.

Write it a thorough application and the result will be satisfactory.

THROUGH BY EXPRESS!!

This is to certify that

The Mexican Mustang Liniment

Has been used quite extensively in the stables of Adams & Co's Great Southern, Eastern, and Western Expresses, for curing galls, chafes, scratches, sprains and bruises, and has proved very effective. Many of their men have also used it on themselves and their families, and they all speak of its healing and remedial qualities in the highest terms. One of our hostlers got kicked and badly cut and bruised on his knee—as usual, the MUSTANG LINIMENT was resorted to, and the soreness and lameness was soon removed, and it was perfectly well in three or four days. We have no hesitancy in recommending it as a valuable preparation to be used extensively on man and beast.

J. DUNNING.

Forwards of Adams & Co's Express Stable, N. Y.

We make great praise in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment. All our customers, and all our customers, as the best article we have ever used for sores, sprains, or galls in horses. We have used it extensively, and always effectually. Some of our men have also used it for severe lacerations and sores, as well as Rheumatic Pains, and they all say it acts like magic—we can only say that we have entirely abandoned the use of any other Liniment.

In justice to the proprietors, and for the sake of the afflicted, I feel it my duty to state publicly, the remarkable cures that have been effected in my family by the use of the Mustang Liniment. A Negro of mine had what was called a Bone Pile on his right leg, the size of a small child's head, and it was so painful and excruciating, that the inflammation had been so extensive that the whole finger had become almost a mass of corruption, and the only hope of saving his leg and perhaps his life, appeared to be in having it cut off. As his general health was very delicate, the physicians advised him to try the Mustang Liniment a few days, till he could be sent to a surgeon in Columbus, as it could be so removed and prevent mutilation. To the satisfaction of the doctor, and myself, the pain soon ceased, the inflammation subsided, and the wound rapidly healed. The finger is now perfectly well and sound. One of my boys had severely burned his hand, and it was taken off from the knuckle to the ankle. The Mustang Liniment was freely applied, and in a thing else was used. The relief and cure was almost beyond belief, but a short time elapsed before the wound was perfectly healed. I consider it an invaluable remedy, and it should be in every family and on every plantation.

J. A. PHILLIPS.

Prices.—The Liniment is put up in 3 sizes, and retails for 25cts, 50cts, and $1.00 per bottle. The 50 cent size contains 3 times as much as the 25 cent size, and the $1.00 size contains 6 times as much as the 25 cent size, being much cheaper.
